

Dr. Kaare Bangert holds degrees both in classics and law. Kaare Bangert has been employed in various academic positions in the Danish Foreign Ministry, the Law Faculties of Copenhagen and Oslo. Moreover, Kaare Bangert has participated as Danish representative in both international and national advisory committees and given legal advice on the law of the sea to both to Governments and private law firms. Among the latest publications is amongst other the entry on 'Internal Waters' in the 'Encyclopaedia of Public International Law' edited by the Max Planck Institute of Public International Law at Heidelberg University, to be published at Oxford University Press.