

Charlotte Breide

Solicitor, London

Joined 2006

Practice areas: Aviation, Business & Finance, Commercial Disputes, Energy & Offshore , Shipping & Trade

Charlotte is a public international lawyer, specialising in LOS and maritime law. She advises governments and makes representations to institutions on international law and law of the sea. For governments, her experience includes land and maritime boundary disputes, involving oil and gas exploration, fisheries and related matters before the International Court of Justice. She has also advised both governments and private clients on a wide range of issues, including resource exploration and management, continental shelf delimitation, coastal state regulation of maritime transport and international law governing pollution, shipping activities and the marine environment. In commercial litigation, Charlotte has particular expertise in international and EU regulations. Languages: English, Swedish, French and German.

Specialist areas: International Law, EU, Law of the Sea

Phillip M. Saunders

Dean, Faculty of Law, Dalhousie University and Weldon Professor of Law. Research Fellow, Centre for Foreign Policy Studies. Member of the Nova Scotia Bar. Teaching and research interests in international marine and environmental law, maritime boundary delimitation, tort law, judicial remedies, fisheries law, and maritime compliance and enforcement. Professor Saunders was formerly with the International Centre for Ocean Development, as Senior Policy Advisor and as Field Representative, South Pacific, and has managed and delivered projects in the areas of boundary delimitation and marine and environmental law in a number of regions. He acted as Counsel for Nova Scotia in the Arbitration of its offshore maritime boundary with Newfoundland (1998-2001).