

Ronan Long read for his PhD at the School of Law at Trinity College Dublin. He holds the Jean Monnet Chair of European Commercial Law at the School of Law at National University of Ireland Galway, and was the first recipient of the Michael Manahan Research Fellowship. He is author of Marine Resource Law (Dublin, 2007), co-author of Enforcing the Common Fisheries Policy (Oxford, 2000) and co-editor of Law, Science and Ocean Management (Boston/Leiden, 2007), and Legal Challenges in Maritime Security (Boston/Leiden, 2008). He worked previously for the European Commission (1994–2002) and his current research interest is focused on the law regulating marine scientific research. He is a former naval officer and has represented Ireland in competitive offshore racing.