

Paper for Consideration by the NIPWGReview of the IHO NIPWG website (Miscellaneous section)

Submitted by:	NIPWG Chair
Executive Summary:	This paper reviews the current information provision and introduce an alternative presentation of the section content
Related Documents:	NIL
Related Projects:	NIL

Introduction / Background

Each HSSC subsidiaries have their own sub-website under the HSSC. Although the style and the order of the information provision is harmonised, some sections provide a certain level of flexibility.

The current product specifications development status and other supplementary information are provided in the "Miscellaneous" section.

Analysis/Discussion/Recommendations

The information in the "Miscellaneous" section is partly outdated and some links have dead ends. In addition, and in consideration of the various product specification development statuses, it has been considered that a two table approach as attached in Annex A is appropriate for both development tracking and comment provision. Although it will not add significant information, a provision of an additional column providing a tentative time schedule could be considered.

Action required of the NIPWG

The NIPWG is invited to:

1. consider the recommendation restructure of the miscellaneous section.